Dear Friends,

By the time you read this the holiday season will be well under way, as I write this the sun is shining so I hope it has continued. The children will have broken up and many people will be either enjoying, or are looking forward to, or have enjoyed a period of rest. Rest of course is most important to recharge our batteries and rest can come in many forms, a change of scenery, undertaking different activities or just being still.

Recently I took a group of youngsters on a Quiet Morning, well you may think, that's a bit contradictory, but in fact we all enjoyed it. We explored the concept of calming and looked at the times that Jesus took himself off to be quiet and how he calmed the storms. We did an exercise ourselves on calming ourselves; the youngsters took a little time to get into it but in the end enjoyed a time when they weren't challenged to do anything but be calm and quiet.

How often do we take time to be calm and quiet? Many of us lead very busy hectic lives, there is always something that needs to be done, whether it is to do with your family or work, it's social or whatever. There is always a list in our heads of things to do. The trouble is we are often ruled by that list and it prevents us from enjoying the here and now of just being in the moment and then we can miss things around us.

I think holidays, which of course come from the words 'holy day' a time to stop and think particularly about God, are times when we should just be. We don't need to go on expensive trips abroad, we don't have to make great arrangements; we can have a holiday in our own spaces even every day.

We just need to stop and draw breath and look around us for even a short time in a day and when we do we go back to the jobs and routine we are refreshed with clearer eyes and a little more energy.

However you are holidaying this year I hope that you can stop for a little while and just be.
Every blessing,
Rev Cate

PARISH COFFEE MORNING

Once again we had beautiful weather for the Coffee Morning in June. It was a real joy to sit in the garden and soak up the sun and enjoy the hospitality Louise and Ray so kindly offered, especially as they were dashing off to Cornwall in the afternoon on a family mercy mission. We are all pleased to know that their granddaughter is making good progress after her operation and wish her well.

Our next Coffee Morning will be held at Court Baron, Cheriton, by kind invitation of Fred and Beryl Worman at 11am. on Wednesday 27th August where once again we can be sure of a warm welcome. Let's hope the weather is kind then too so that we may enjoy the wonderful vista from their garden. Do join us for a friendly get-together.

For information about the Coffee Mornings, or if anyone would like a lift, please contact me on 841828.

All contributions from the Coffee Mornings go to Church funds.

CHURCH CAR BOOT SALE SUCCESS

"Thanks to all who so generously gave towards this event; we went off to Exeter with a van heavy laden with all your donations. After an exhausting morning our sales skills were well rewarded with a grand total of £315 raised.

For those of us who were involved we were amazed by what we took. So again, a huge heartfelt thanks to you all. May I also thank SE Auto Engineers for the loan of the van."

Do you have a Payhembury apple tree in your garden?

The Payhembury apple is a large, bright green, sharp cider apple, although it makes a good cooking apple and can be used for juicing. It is disease resistant and stores well. Whilst its origin is unclear, it is believed to be the result of grafts from Some specimens of the Cockesputt, the School they first cropped in that an original Pay- a descendant, might the village. Do you have an unidentified apple tree in your garden? Or, if you'd like to have a Payhembury apple tree in your garden, they are available from Thornhayes Nurseries at Dulford.

a Payhembury tree. tree were planted at and Culver House and 1998. It's also possible hembury apple tree, or still exist somewhere in

Mother & daughter set up local care service

Enterprising Payhembury mother, Poppy Layburn and Saskia, her daughter who lives in Whimple, recently set up PoppyCare to provide personal domiciliary care to anyone in the local area who needs day or night assistance - from full personal care to shopping, cleaning and general help .

Both Poppy and Saskia have many years experience in care work. They want their clients to receive care that is understanding, sympathetic and tailored to suit the needs of each individual - "something that the big care companies can't provide."

"We plan to keep PoppyCare small so that we can provide personal assistance that is totally beneficial to the client", Poppy explains.

One of their clients certainly agrees: "PoppyCare is our ray of sunshine. It's so nice to have consistent personal assistants whom we can depend on".

The basic 8am - 8pm charge for PoppyCare is £10 an hour, with a slightly higher fee for special assistance such as overnight care. For more information contact Poppy on 841129 or 07786 392480.

Churchyard clean-up

Saturday 23rd August 10am - 12 noon

We do need more helpers to keep the churchyard looking good. At the moment a few people put in a lot of effort.

We are soon to begin work on the Commemoration wall and David Curran continues to do an amazing job on the wall dividing the churchyard and the playing field. Thank you David.

Party in the Park 2014

Wow, weren't we lucky with the weather again! We very much hope everyone had a great night. It is always hard work to organise an event like this. If anyone in the village would like to help in any way next year please approach us in the New Year. Your involvement will be warmly welcomed.

A big THANK YOU goes to everyone who contributed to the evening in various ways. These included judging Payhembury's Got Talent, manning the bar, bbq, and entrance table, creating posters, helping set up the band equipment, lending equipment and very generous donations of raffle prizes, beer, cider and the wonderful new trophies.

Thank you to anyone who gave us their time, effort and enthusiasm. It really was a great village effort. The money we raised ensures the continuation of Youth Club, now both senior and junior.

Thank you for your support,

Youth Club Committee

(Michael Bryson, Robin Elsom, Anna McFadden, Graham Mullin, Keith and Lucy Williams)

Olivia Vincent the winner of Payhembury's 'Got Talent 2014'

What a lovely evening this was. Congratulations to all those involved in the organisation. I had the privilege of being one of the judges - and what a difficult task that was. Congratulations to all the children who took part. Looking forward to next year's PARTY.

Nature Notes - Observations from July

Hello again

Returning home at dusk the other evening, a large dark shape flew silently overhead – a tawny owl – the first I've seen this year. I haven't heard many owls either, which is unusual. Biddy tells me that they have a family of little owls in Colestocks. These are not much bigger than thrushes.

Late in June, there was a lot of activity on our feeders – lots of young birds – finches, tits, sparrows, collared doves plus a great spotted woodpecker, which was always around. Then, I discovered that there were two of them, a pair? We've also been visited by a nuthatch, but only once! Did you know that nuthatches can walk down tree trunks head first?

Down at the Tale, at Tuckmill, the young swallows were sitting on the wires, being fed by the parent birds. There are a few more hirundines (swallows, martins and swifts) about now, but not as many as we get in some years. I wonder why?

Walking back home, I noticed more butterflies on the wing – gatekeepers, meadow browns, whites and a comma. The main flush of butterflies has not appeared yet. It is a bit early in the year for them. They usually wait until our buddleia has gone to seed but they then feed on the windfall apples.

Hi folks

Parchina and I are in such a hurry, Mum and Dad have just told us that we are off on holiday, it was such a surprise we didn't know anything about it. Mum said if she told us too early we would have kept on and on asking how many more days to go; now we are in a rush because we are going tomorrow. We don't know what to pack, shall we take this or that, oh help!

We are going to the seaside, we are visiting some of our cousins who live near the sea on a caravan site, oh it's so exciting I can't wait. They tell us that there is lots going on, we can even swim in the sea as the sun goes down if we are careful and there aren't any cats or dogs nearby so we can play in safety, the only problem is something called seagulls. They are big birds which can be very nasty and they pinch all the food.

Our cousins have told us that there are lots of fish and chips, that's going to make a change from our usual diet of biscuits, but we have to be careful as the seagulls like them too and we should never fight with the seagulls as they peck hard and can even carry off little mice like us.

We're not thinking about seagulls, we're thinking about playing in the sand and running up and down the sand dunes, sliding on slippery seaweed and licking out icecream wrappers, oh I can't wait.

It's been a rather quiet month in church, no weddings but we did have the christening of the Collin's boys, Archie and Alfie at the end of the month; that was fun and a different vicar took it as well. We all enjoyed the Leavers' Service and are sad the yr 6 children won't be with us on Thursdays but we hope they have a great time at their next school.

Hey Mum is calling for us to finish packing - must dash, now where did I put my blue swimming cossy? Will send you a postcard if I get the chance.

Love Parchie and Parchina.

The BBC* at Lyme Regis

July 19 saw the last of our BBC 'get togethers' for this academic year.

Ten children met at Rev Cate's house in Lyme Regis for a quiet morning of reflection. Their time together included bible study and discussion and singing too! And yes, 10 children even managed 15 minutes of absolute silence for a time of reflection!!

The only option then was to head for the beach, of course, where we meet with our families and friends. Fortunately, we dodged the showers and the sun shone as we enjoyed fish, chips and picnics on the beach as well as a spot of fishing off the Cobb!

A lovely day and a great way to end the year. Becky

* Editor's note: This BBC is of course the Bible and Biscuit Club run fortnightly by Rev Cate for all Years 5 and above children. As well as an opportunity for children to look at the bible and what it has to say to them, there's lots of fun, excitement, excursions - and biscuits!!

Payhembury Weather

www.payhembury-weather.co.uk

Rainfall: Both June and so far in July has been average rainfall. Thunderstorms on 17th July provided a good lightning display over Payhembury.

Temperatures: Both June and into July are warmer than the long term average continuing the trend for all months this year so far. No extreme temperatures however.

Weather elsewhere: It's been unusually hot in Norway recently with northern Norway experiencing over 30degC which is warmer than it has been in the UK! Conversely Spain has been cooler than average where at altitude it got down to freezing one night in July.

Book launch for Payhembury author

Payhembury writer, Serena Cairns is one of five contributors to a new paperback book of 37 short stories, 'Between Stops', which was launched last month in Ottery St Mary. Described as a collection of stories for life's travellers, it is available locally from the Curious Otter bookshop and is on sale from Amazon and through "Books on the Underground" in London.

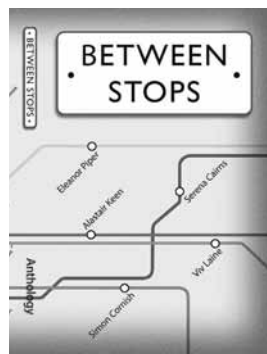

The book offers a variety of themes - from whimsical humour to the macabre, with each of the five authors offering their own styles of writing. It has already received favourable reviews online: "bite size chunks of fiction that you can enjoy anywhere – anytime"; "They are great to read on the bus/train."

Serena agrees: "The stories are very short. You can read one while boiling the kettle."

The other four Devonian authors are Simon Cornish and Eleanor Piper who live in Ottery St Mary, Viv Laine who lives in Feniton and Alastair Keen.

A BIG THANK YOU and a plea from the heart

I would like to give a big vote of thanks to everyone who advertises in the paper as you cover the majority of our running costs. We have a really good range of adverts and I would encourage everyone to support our local businesses as we are lucky to have a range of experts on hand especially when an unexpected crisis arises!

Renewal invoices for adverts were sent out at the beginning of June (many thanks to those super speedy payers who have already been in touch with me). Could any advertisers who have not received their invoice please let me know as it is possible that your computer has decided that I am spam and has sent my email to the recycle bin.

Ideally I would like to get all the payments in by the end of August so that I can put all the paperwork away as my dining room table is always very messy at the moment. If anyone doesn't wish to renew could you let me know so that I can offer the space to someone else?

Postponement of 'They Dream of Home'

Due to a number of unresolved issues, it has been decided to postpone until next year the theatre production to commemorate WW1. I will re-approach those who were to take part this year to involve them in preparation for next year's event and I am very keen to hear from anyone else who would like to know more – without obligation – about the play and the many tasks which have to be undertaken to prepare and perform it next year.

Having gained the permission of their relatives, the play involved two men whose names are on the memorial – Thomas Dimond and Albert Ware Willis, I am happy to send the script to those who would like to read it. We will also be organising a range of other activities related to the war – a poetry event, singing of WW1 songs, exhibition of local memorabilia, presentations by school students, a talk by an historian etc. Please contact me if you can help plan any of these or have ideas for other events.

My apologies and thanks to all those who offered to perform, sing, play, cope with road closure around the Green and help in other ways, I hope you will stay with the project next year.

Tips to keep your dog safe at the beach

Don't assume your dog can swim. All dogs have to learn to swim just like us. Some breeds are naturally strong swimmers, but other breeds (such as corgis and pugs) are not.

Drinking salt water is a bad idea. Ensure you have plenty of fresh water in a cool or shaded place at all times.

Apply sunscreen to your dog – especially to dogs with thin or pale fur – and apply to areas such as the nose and ears. Don't forget poo bags so you can clean up after your dog.

Make sure your dog has a collar, ID tag and preferably is micro chipped, just in case he/she gets lost.

Don't overdo it. Running on sand is more tiring than on grass, so don't expect your dog to be able to run and play for as long as they might on a normal walk. Make sure your dog has a shady area to rest in and remember that sand can be scorching on paws on a hot day so make sure you have a blanket for him/her to lie down on.

Be careful to avoid heat stroke – watch for signs of overheating such as excessive panting, drooling, co-ordination problems, vomiting and/or diarrhoea and collapse.

Dogs with heatstroke need their body temperature lowering gradually to give them the best chance of survival.

Immediately douse the dog with cool (never cold) water if possible.

Move the dog into a shaded cool area and give small amounts of cool water to drink.

Go straight to the nearest veterinary practice and call ahead so that they are expecting you.

If your dog suffers from arthritis or other joint conditions limit the amount of time spent swimming in cold water. They may think it is great fun at the time, but they will probably be very stiff and sore the following day. They can also get tail strain from using their tail as a rudder when swimming, which can be very painful.

At the end of the day check your dog over thoroughly for cuts and scrapes, rinse him/her thoroughly to remove salt and sand from coat and paws and dry thoroughly to ensure he/she does not get chilled.

Up the Clarets!

August is here! Which means the football season starts. I'm looking forward to the first fixture – BURNLEY v CHELSEA. Some people are writing us off before the season even starts, but I'm very confident we can mix with the so called "big boys", and at the end of the season I can say "I told you so!"

WELL DONE!! to the organisers of the Party In The Park. The weather was kind which made it a good evening. I thought the youngsters who took part in Payhembury's Got Talent were BRILLIANT! They were very brave to perform on stage in front of a lot of people (16 acts).

See you around the village.

Editor's note: Burnley's first Premier League match v. Chelsea is live on Sky Sports1 on Mon, Aug18, 8pm

No August Cup of Tea and Bingo!

Sorry we have cancelled the August get-together. There will be NO meeting on the 6th August due to a number of players being on holiday. Therefore our next get-together will be on Wednesday, 3rd September 2014 in the Parish Hall from 2.15pm.

Hope you all have a good holiday and look forward to seeing you and some new players on the 3rd.
