Message from the Headteacher

Dear Parents

Thank you to all those parents who were able to attend the parent's workshop on Wednesday night at Awliscombe School. The meeting was presented by an agency called CAP, Child Assault Prevention. We had a great attendance at the meeting and it demonstrated how important we all feel about empowering our children with the skills to keep safe. The workshops for the children will begin next week. The children will attend 3 workshops (age appropriate) over the course of three days. I am sure the children will return home and tell you about it. I would encourage you all to spend time talking about what the children have learnt in school during the workshops as they will potentially be the foundations to keeping our children safe from harm. If you weren't able to make the parents evening, then you can find information from the following website <http://safestrongfree.org.uk>

Today is Friendship Friday - all the children looked great in their yellow clothing. I had absolutely nothing in my wardrobe yellow so hopefully they might change the colour next year.

Also today the children took part in a short remembrance service in readiness for tomorrow. Each year we hold a short service to honour those who lost their lives in the great Wars and any others since. The children plan and deliver the service with such compassion and I am always very proud of them.

I'm not sure we have informed you of the changes in our Collective worship timetable. We have introduced two visits to Church. We go on Monday and on Friday afternoons. The service starts at 3pm and you are always welcome to join us in church.

I would also like to share some fantastic news with you all. Roxy Spiller from Oak Class took part in a World Taekwondo Tournament in Birmingham recently and she was placed 4th. We are all so proud of her and her achievements. Well done Roxy!!

Finally, next Friday is Children in Need and the school will be having a MUFTI (wear what you want) Day. The recommended donation is £1. One Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next week there will be activities taking place run by the school council on the playground after school. Please bring in your loose change.

Have a great week end and see you all next week.

Mrs Hammett
